

This homework is due January 22, 2018 at 23:59.

Self-grades are due January 25, 2018 at 23:59.

This homework is simply administrative and meant to collect some basic information. Make sure that you are comfortable with submitting homework. Actual homeworks will start next week.

Submission Format

Your homework submission should consist of one file.

- hw0.pdf: A single PDF file that contains all of your answers (any handwritten answers should be scanned).

Submit the file to the appropriate assignment on Gradescope.

1. Background

- (a) What is your name?
- (b) Tell us about yourself. Where are you from, what are your hobbies, etc.
- (c) What would you like to learn from this course?
- (d) What would you like to learn from courses in the EECS department before you graduate?
- (e) What is a technology that you would like to see invented in the next  $\sim 20$  years? What might be needed to realize this?
- (f) Tell us about your academic background. What math and physics courses have you taken in high-school?
- (g) What platform do you use (Mac/Linux/Windows)?
- (h) In your opinion, what is the reason behind the iPhone's success?

2. Syllabus

Read the course syllabus and answer the following questions. The syllabus can be found here: <http://inst.eecs.berkeley.edu/~ee16a/sp18/#policies>.

- (a) What are the times and dates of both midterms?
- (b) If you need exam accomodation, whom do you contact and how? When do you have to contact this person by?
- (c) When are homeworks due?
- (d) Can you go to a discussion section different from your registered section?
- (e) How many homework drops do you get?
- (f) What is the penalty if you turn in your self-grades up to 1 week late?

- (g) When are self-grades due?
- (h) Provide a complete list of everything you must do in order to receive any credit for your homework assignments.
- (i) How many unexcused labs can you miss without failing?
- (j) As a student in this course, what online forum should you check regularly?